EQUESTRIAN SPORTS NZ Integrity – Child Protection

SECTION 1: Child Safeguarding Policies

POLICY 5: Code of Conduct for People Working or Volunteering with Children and Young People

Policy Rationale	Working with children and young people is a privilege. They have a fundamental right to be safe. Commitment to Te Tiriti O Waitangi Equestrian Sports New Zealand recognises Te Tiriti o Waitangi as Aotearoa New Zealand’s founding document. Equestrian Sports New Zealand is committed to upholding the mana of Te Tiriti o Waitangi and the principles of Partnership, Protection and Participation.
Policy Statement(s)	Why do we need a Code of Conduct? A Code of Conduct sets the standards of conduct and behaviour so that: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• children, young people and their parents, caregivers and whānau can expect to feel safe and listened to• staff and volunteers can promote safe and effective practices in their organisation

EQUESTRIAN SPORTS NEW ZEALAND

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• organisations can support their staff and volunteers to provide the safeguarding standards expected by children, young people and their parents, caregivers and whānau. The reality is that while most of the people who volunteer or seek jobs working with children and young people do so because they genuinely want to help children, there are people who want to abuse or harm children or young people and seek positions of trust to give them access. We must also acknowledge that some people, no matter how keen or experienced they present, are not well suited to work with children and young people based upon their behaviour towards them. These are things we must not shy away from when we build a team of staff and volunteers to offer a sport, recreation, activity, or event.
Policy Documentation	Codes of Conduct are an essential part of a proactive approach to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• preventing child abuse• keeping children and young people safe• treating children and young people with the respect they deserve• recognising and responding to inappropriate or unacceptable behaviour• keeping staff or volunteers safe, to ensure play, active recreation and sport continues to be a quality experience• maintaining the high standards required of our organisation Six key considerations to implement a Code of Conduct: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Developing a Code of Conduct recognises that different play, active recreation and sports organisations have different levels of risk. For example, in some sports and activities, it can be necessary to touch children when demonstrating techniques or it is common to have 1:1 training.

2. Training staff and volunteers on the Code of Conduct during their induction and explaining why it is important.
3. Gaining agreement from staff and volunteers to abide by the Code of Conduct (e.g., signing the Code of Conduct).
4. Reminding staff and volunteers of the Code of Conduct regularly.
5. Making children, young people, parents, caregivers and whānau aware of the Code of Conduct, and how it keeps them safe.
6. Ensure you have a system in place to respond to concerns, enable appropriate investigation, referral to statutory agencies, and HR processes.

Code of Conduct for all staff and volunteers

Your role involves working or volunteering with children and young people. This Code of Conduct will help keep children, young people and yourself safe.

(The term “we” means the organisation, ESNZ, children, young people and their parents, caregivers/whānau.)

To work with the children and young people in our organisation “we” expect you to:

- Acknowledge the rights of children and young people to be listened to and to thrive and participate in decisions that affect them.
- Encourage enjoyable participation for children and young people in Equestrian sports.
- Understand that preventing abuse and protecting children and young people from abuse is the responsibility of everyone.
- Be familiar with and abide by our safeguarding and child protection policy and procedures.
- Report any concerns to your Child Safeguarding Representative (CSR) without delay. These include:
 - poor practice
 - concerning behaviours
